Message from Laleure

The summer has been good for grapes! Despite earlier rains, we have had a nice warm fall to develop the balance between sugar and acid in the grapes, so we look forward to more great wines at Laleure.

Harvest has started, and we are trying some new things. Talk to us to see what is happening!

We don't usually enter many wine competitions, but we did just win a silver medal at the international Sommelier Challenge in San Diego, CA

Events

Hike the Laleure Woods on Saturdays - September 25, October 2, and October 9 starting at 10:30. We will hike the 3 mile Laleure trail to see fall colors, wildflowers and birds (self identification, no naturalist except for our fellow hikers). Waterproof footgear is highly recommended. There are several short but steep inclines, so hikers be aware before you set out. Bring a picnic lunch and join us afterwards at the winery. No charge for the hike, hike at your own risk. Reservations required, email us at laleurevineyards. Check website home page for any cancellations or changes

Music in the Silo Series (Instrumentals)- Saturday afternoon September 25 and October 2 (and beyond), 1:30 pm Ed Gorse classical guitar instrumentals (and other string instruments)- Ed will play his wonderful repertoire of classical tunes from up in the silo, where visitors can look out over the valley and on out to Pennsylvania. Feel free to bring your own snacks for an enjoyable, relaxing afternoon. This series will continue through the year, so check the website for the latest Saturday afternoon music

Joe Fritz & friends Friday October 1, 6:30 - Joe brings lots of fun into your evening with an entertaining personality, deep resonant voice, great guitar & banjo, and we all love his 12 string work! Joe Fritz Band

The Woodpeckers - Friday October 15, 6:30 pm - Eclectic band playing blues, rock, country and lots more. Always entertaining, and a whole lot of fun. Great musicians making fantastic music with their instruments and voices

Hey Mavis Friday October 29, 6:30 pm - We are happy to have Hey Mavis back at Laleure this fall. This well known group has quite a bio. Eleven years ago, banjoist/songwriter Laurie Michelle Caner and violinist/fiddler Eddie Caner formed Hey Mavis while serving as artists-in-residence in the Cuyahoga Valley National Park. Since then, this Northcoast Americana band has been weaving a musical tapestry and igniting a following of dedicated fans. Their duo shows are full of traditional fiddle tunes, heartfelt originals that we love to offer at Laleure. Hey Mavis has appeared on NPR's Mountain Stage, NPR's Whad'ya Know?, PBS's Applause and PBS's Songs from the Center. The group has performed standing-room-only shows at the Xerox Rochester International Jazz Festival as well as nine consecutive sell-out concerts in their hometown of Akron Ohio. In 2018, Melissa Etheridge hand-picked Hey Mavis to be one of the headliners for her music cruise. We look forward to a very special evening. Hey Mavis

News from the Tasting Room

Coming soon—our newest Hop'd Up Vignoles and new single varietal Bianca which is a Hungarian varietal we have been growing

Laleure Vineyards started growing grapes in Parkman, Ohio in 1997. Laleure is a small boutique winery dedicated to producing high quality wines made primarily from vinifera grapes grown on the property. The varietals offered include Chardonnay, Pinot Noir, Cabernet franc Riesling, Vignoles, Chambourcin as well as red and white blends.
